Masters Swimming Coach of the Year

At the Australian Swimming Coaches Conference Annual Awards Dinner on 12th May 1990, Graeme McDougall (AUSSI President) announced that the 1989 Masters Swimming Coach of the year is KAY COX

O.f

Western Australia

AUSSI Mission Statement

"To encourage adults, regardless of age or ability, to swim regularly in order to promote fitness and improve their general health."

Coaches Liability Insurance

This insurance is an extension of the AUSSI 'Legal Liability' policy which is specific to authorised AUSSI activities only. Hence it covers the coaching of AUSSI groups, but NOT non-AUSSI squads.

Attention Publicity Officers

a. Media Booklet

A most informative booklet "Sport and Recreation and the Media Information Booklet" has come to my attention. It contains concise information in a dozen pages and costs $6.50 from Sport and Recreation Victoria. It is well worth the investment for all clubs (and Branches) and could well form part of a 'New Club pack.

b. Branch Brochures

Enclosed are two from Victoria and ACT. Havbe you can glean some ideas from these. If your Branch alread has one, why not send me is or 20 for distribution to the other dranches. Let's all nool our good ideas.

Australian Veterans Games

These are to be held in March 1991 in Wagga Wagga, NSW, in direct conflict with the AUSSI National swim in Devonport. There was no attempt at consultation with either AUSSI or the Australian Sports Directory before setting the dates. The AUSSI Board of Directors considered changing our dates, but with National Swims being planned 3 years in advance and firm bookings made two years in advance, that just wasn't possible.

Hence, the swimming at the Games will \underline{NOT} be a sanctioned Masters event (as are the Central Australian Masters Games and the Australian Masters Games) and so no times will be accepted as records or for the Top Ten.

The Man Who Started It All (courtesy Masterscrawl, 1 June 1990)
The death occurred late last year of Dr. Ransom J Arthur, the man who introduced Masters swimming to the world. Dr. Arthur died in Lisbon while on holiday, of an airborne virus infection.

During the 1950's and 1960's, Dr. Arthur had considerable experience in coaching and training people in the United States Navy and continued to compete himself past the age of 40. The Navy team had swimmers of various ages and it was clear to Dr. Arthur that, with appropriate training methods, it was possible for adults to compete without undue danger. It was also obvious that the prospect of actual competition provided a goal and a framework for continuous daily practice which would otherwise have become tedious and boring. Adults did not have to potter around living on memories. If they still had health and the taste for matching strokes with people of their own age, there was no reason why they should not.

There was initially a luke warm reception to this idea, but in 1970 the first U.S. national meet was held in Amarillo, Texas. Not so many competed but a second meeting was held a year later and a scientific study showed that healthy older people could compete without adverse effects. The Masters fever, which now involves thousands of people throughout the world, was born. The year 1990 will bring the second decade of Masters swimming to a close. It is fitting that Dr. Ransom J. Arthur is this year to be inducted into the U.S. International Swimming Hall of Fame. He will be the first Master swimmer to be so honoured.

States/Branches

Flease note that referring to a "State Branch" is repetitious. AUSSI Masters Swimming is administered by a National Executive and Board of Directors, and eight Branches are affiliated with it. These Branches are found in each of the six states as well as the two territories.
